Get Your Brew On! Craft Brewery Day Sunday at Ajax Downs and Record Setting Show Payoffs on Twilight Thursday

AJAX DOWNS, JULY 21, 2017 – What do Brock Street, Bobcaygeon, Henderson, Northern Mavericks, Flying Monkeys and Flacon have in common with Ajax Downs racetrack?

These are just some of the breweries which will be trackside on Sunday, July 23 for Craft Brewery Day at the Races, partnered with an exciting day of Quarter Horse racing.

Three trial races for the upcoming $55,000 Ontario Sires Stakes Futurity, featuring 2-year-old Quarter Horses, the stars of the future, are part of the racing card on Sunday.

Admission is free on Sunday and tickets will be on sale for $1 samples of the best of craft breweries in Ontario.

*In what is believed to be a record at Ajax Downs, the track's first Twilight card of racing on Thursday, July 20 featured a race which produced some whopping 'show' payoffs.

Race two, an allowance race for Ontario-sired horses, was won by the filly Make Me Bodacious, a 5 to 1 shot, who paid $12.70 to win and $6.50 for a place bet but $127.30 for a $2 show bet.

Second place finisher Ice N Snow, a 3 to 1 shot, paid $4.10 for place and $47.60 to show while Ittakestwotootango paid $50.80 to show.

The payoffs for a $2 show bet on the top three finishers were large because heavily favoured Younotthebossofme, who finished third but was disqualified and placed fifth, had more than $6,000 bet to show on him.
