AJAX DOWNS, WEDNESDAY JUNE 23, 2021 - The 2021 Quarter Horse racing season at Ajax Downs is only two days old and already the women riders have taken a firm hold of the standings, One week after Rachael Isaacs won three races on the opening day of the meeting, her first wins of her career, Helen Vanek won half of the eight-race June 23 card while Cassandra Jeschke notched her first win of the season.

'Hurricane' Helen's four victories on the afternoon included a winning ride on SPY FOR THE SENATE in the featured eighth race, a $13,000 allowance race that drew Horses of the Year Fiesty Icon and Had to Be Ivory. The 5-year-old Spy for the Senate, owned by Milena Kwiecien and trained by Pontypool's Jason Pascoe broke smartly from post position six in the 300-yard dash, was in an early duel with stablemate Carneros and then surged at the finish to win by a nose. Countrys Comin Bac, owned by Ralph Pearson was a strong second in his season debut and Had to Be Ivory closed fast to finish third after a slow start. Fiesty Icon was seventh. Spy for the Senate, now a nine-time winner from 30 starts with over $147,000 in earnings, ran the distance in 15.239, good for a hefty 101-speed index.

Two races earlier, Vanek rode another Kwiecien stallion, MARYLAND MAGIC, to that horse's 10th career win on the same day his first foal to race, Blazin Magician, finished second in a 2-year-old maiden race. Both Spy for the Senate and Maryland Magic do stud duty in the winter and race in the summer.

"They are both such classy horses," said Vanek. "They go out and race, never do anything wrong. They are a pleasure to ride." Vanek also won on Belinda Taggart's Ontario sired and bred 2-year-old Keeper of the Stars and

Kk Blue Cartel, the first horse ever owned by Doug Hart, a longtime employee of the gelding's trainer and co-owner Craig Spada.
